C- READING COMPREHENSION[8 Marks]*5) Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Many people have been recently discussing the use of seat belts while driving cars. Although seat belts have been shown to save lives, people give some reasons for not using them. First, many people think that they annoy them. They say that the belt prevents them from moving freely. Second, many people are lazy. They have troubles to put on and adjust a seat belt especially if they are only going a short distance. Third, many people believe they will not have an accident because they are clever drivers. They think that they are able to avoid accidents. Finally, some people are worried that they may trap them in their cars and prevent them from running away if they have an accident. Despite these reasons, statistics prove that wearing seat belts saves lives and prevents injuries.

A- Give short answers to the following questions:

1. How do seat belts cause troubles to lazy drivers?
2. According to the passage, what do some clever drivers think?
3. What makes seat belts a trap according to some drivers?

6) Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Advertising has become a very specialised activity nowadays. In the business world of today, supply becomes greater than demand. There is a great competition between the different manufacturers of the same product to persuade customers to buy their own particular product. They always remind the customer of the name and the quality of their product. They do this either by advertising in newspapers and on posters or by paying for songs about their product on radio programmes. Others employ attractive sales-girls to distribute samples of it. They organise competitions, with prizes for the winners. Most important of all, television advertisements are put into programmes whenever this is possible. Manufacturers often spend large sums of money on advertisements.

Actually many advertisements of new products are misleading. We buy a particular product because we think it is the best. Some people never pause to ask themselves if the advertisements are telling the truth.

A- Give short answers to the following questions:

1. Why do manufacturers spend so much money on advertising?
2. What do sales-girls do?
3. Why do some people buy a particular product?

B- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:
