Many writers have called Fayoum a paradise. The oases of Fayoum are surrounded by desert and fed by water from the Nile. The result is green place with rich earth and there is even a lake called Birket Qarun. Fayoum covers an area of 2000 square kilometres and is only two hour drive from Cairo. It was formed when water from the Nile broke through the Lahun Gap and made a large lake. The lake measures, about 240 square kilometres. Today the lake is salty like the sea, and contains a lot of fish. All kinds of fruit are grown in Fayoum; oranges, apples, and apricots. Many people go to Fayoum to hunt birds through binoculars. Fayoum is also the home of some of Egypt's famous pyramids and temples. The pyramid of Amenehat III was made, of thousands of mud bricks. Bricks and pots are still made today in Fayoum .So if you want to relax and see old buildings, or go fishing or escape from the noise of Cairo, then Fayoum is the place to visit.
