15. If you were Rassendyll, would you make use of Flavia's popularity? Why? Why not?

18. Why do you think that Rassendyll spoke with Michael symbolically?

17. Imagine you were Rassendyll, would you insist on telling Flavia the truth? Why? Why not?

- 12. If you were Rassendyll, would you accept Rupert's offer and then deceive him? Why? Why not?
- No, I wouldn't. It wouldn't be easy to deceive Rupert as he was the worst and the strongest of Michael's men. Rassendyll wasn't the kind of man who would deceive others.
- 13. Why do you think Rassendyll chose Johann in particular to be his spy?
- Rassendyll was good at judging others. He chose Johann because he knew that he was weak, not wicked like his brother, Max.

- 15. Why do you think the innkeeper's daughter apologized to Rassendyll (the pretend king) although she didn't speak badly about the king?

- Rupert just wanted to warn Rassendyll not to try to save the King. He meant to say that if Rassendyll tried to rescue the King, he would die.
- It was just an excuse for the people of Ruritania who might wonder why the king isn't staying with his brother.

18. If you were Duke Michael, would you go to the country house and invite Rassendyll (the pretend king) and his men to the Castle of Zenda? Why? Why not?

- No, I wouldn't. Michael knew that Rassendyll wanted to save the King. He also knew that Rassendyll was a very strong man.

11. Do you agree that Rupert was a man of no principles? Why? Why not?

- Yes, he had no principles. He was not loyal to anyone. First he betrayed the king and helped kidnap him. Then, he killed Michael to get a reward from Rassendyll. He would do anything for money and power.

12. Do you think that Rassendyll should have captured Max Holf instead of killing him? Why? Why not?

- I don't think so. If Rassendyll had tried to do that, he could have been killed and his plan could have failed. It wasn't easy to do that as Max was a strong and evil man. There would have been a fight and Michael's men would come to help Max and arrest or kill Rassendyll, Sapt and Fritz and their men.

13. In your opinion, why did Rassendyll want to know if the servants in the Castle of Zenda knew that the king was held prisoner?

- Because if the servants didn't know that the King was held prisoner, they would think that Rassendyll was the real King when they saw him and would help him save the King.

14. If you were Rassendyll, would you agree to Rupert's evil plan? Why? Why not?

- No, I wouldn't. One would never betray the people who trusted him. One shouldn't take what's not his. Also Rupert one day would turn against me just as he turned against Michael.

15. Do you think that the British ambassador's report made Rassendyll's situation worse? Why

- Yes, it made Rassendyll's situation worse. Now, the police are looking for him and his true identity might be revealed. He needed more time to save the King.

16. Was Rupert sure that Rassendyll would follow his evil plan? Why? Why not?

- I think so; he believed Rassendyll wanted to stay King. He didn't understand that Rassendyll was only pretending to be King for the good of Ruritania. Bad people usually think that others are bad like them.

17. Would Johann have continued helping Rassendyll if he hadn't been offered money? Why? Why not?

- I think he would because he had no choice. He wasn't safe. Michael would one day try to get rid of him because he knew his secret
